NAZI WARSHIP OUT OF ACTION

Ozanic Says NLRB Favored CIO Union

LEADER OF AFL MINE UNION IS QUIZ WITNESS

Claims Majorities Against CIO Can Be Proved

Washington, Dec. 13.—(P)—Joe Ozanic, aggressive young leader of the Progressive Mine Workers (AFL), charged before a house investigating committee today that the National Labor Relations Board had followed a "plan" to give the United Mine Workers (CIO) "a way out" in the desperate rivalry between the two unions.

The "plan," as he described it, was embodied in a controlling decision, which certified the CIO union as the bargaining agent for all the coal mines in a specific geographic area. This was done, he said, despite provable majorities for the Progressives in individual mines.

As a result, he asserted, the United Mine Workers and employers in the field had forced thousands of Progressive members to switch to the CIO union, and pay its dues, regardless of their own desires in the matter.

In one instance, which he cited late in the day, that of the Acme Semi-Anthracite Coal company, of Williams, Okla., members of the Progressive union were unrepresented, he said, because their jobs had been taken by miners imported by the United Mine Workers.

Call Lewis Director

All the accumulated bitterness of the fierce battle between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor were epitomized for the committee in the day's testimony. Ozanic spoke repeatedly of "dictator John L. Lewis," and of alleged "coercion" by CIO members against his own followers.

As one point, Edmund M. Toland, the committee's counsel, introduced a memorandum from Philip G. Phillips, West Virginia regional director of the labor board, which quoted "Van Bittner" as having advised United Mine Workers organizers to shoot Progressive organizers "faster than they would shoot a rabbit."

"Who is Van Bittner?" Chairman Smith (D-Va.) inquired.

"Van Bittner," Ozanic explained, leaning forward, his black eyes flashing, "is the name of the provisional district president for district seventeen of the United Mine Workers. He was appointed by Dictator John L. Lewis and never in his life elected by the United Mine Workers. That gentleman, is Mr. Bittner."

Bittner Denies It

Later Van A. Bittner, who spells his name with two "i"s and is president of District 17, and also a member of the UMW international board, denied that he had ever made the shooting statement.

"That statement of Phillips is absolutely untrue and made out of whole cloth," he told reporters. "The memorandum mentioned that Bittner spoke at a Labor day meeting in Charleston, W. Va., but the UMW official said the union held no Labor day meeting in Charleston in 1938."

Ozanic complained repeatedly that many cases brought by his union to obtain representation for its men and to prevent discrimination against them, were dismissed by the labor board without a hearing and without the assignment of any reasons for its action. In addition, he said that while he had written the board many times with reference to them, the latter

Wife Gets Old Coins From Her Husband

Chicago, Dec. 13.—(P)—Mrs. Horace L. Brand got her Christmas spending money today, although a bit ancient.

It consisted of several gold coins dating from before Christ, a French gold zara of 1813 and an American Jenny Lind commemorative penny.

Mrs. Brand, suing her husband, former publisher of a defunct German language newspaper, for separate maintenance, had appealed to Superior Judge Rudolph Desort for $500 to tide her over Christmas.

Today Brand presented the rare coins as payment. They came from his collection, once valued at $1,500,000. He said the coins offered were appraised at $370.

"But what will I do with them?" Mrs. Brand asked.

Brand said he would give her 33 cents on the dollar. She pocketed them, saying she would think that over.

SENATOR BORAH WARNS GOP OF FOREIGN POLICY

Idaho Veteran Says Definite Point Of View Necessary

Washington, Dec. 13.—(P)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) warned the Republican party today that it must take a "clear and unmistakable" stand on President Roosevelt's foreign policies or face a "humiliating retreat" in the 1940 presidential election.

Borah's warning came in a letter to Allen W. Dulles, a delegate to the 1939 Paris peace conference and one of 12 advisors of Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The Idaho senator said he had seen press reports that Dulles, speaking at a luncheon of the executive committee of the New York state Republican club on December 9, had "advised against a campaign on foreign policies and favored eliminating foreign policy questions as issues in the campaign."

Landon's Stand

Other prominent Republicans, Borah said, had urged the same course. This recalled that Alf Landon has, in general, been supporting the Roosevelt foreign policy.

But Borah made clear that he intended to continue criticizing that policy during the coming campaign. He was one of the leaders of the unsuccessful fight in the special session of Congress against the administration-sponsored amendments to the neutrality act.

Borah said that he believed the question of national security was wrapped up in the country's foreign policy, adding that he did not see how such weighty problems as the budget, taxes, public expenditures and other questions could be intelligently discussed without having a sound and well understood foreign policy.

Refuse Rearrest Of Movie Union Leader

Los Angeles, Dec. 13.—(P)—The district attorney's office today refused a request of the Chicago state attorney that William Bluff, leader of motion picture studio AFL unions, be rearrested on a 17-year-old pandering charge.

Bluff was released from a fugitive warrant yesterday on motion of Deputy District Attorney Edwin Myers.

"Until we receive the proper papers from Chicago, nothing can be done here," Myers said after receipt of a telegram from Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook county, asking that Bluff be held until a governor's warrant has been issued in Illinois.

"All the police have here is a photostatic copy of a very old arrest warrant issued in Chicago. I doubt its usefulness now, since Bluff was convicted and sentenced."

MINE IS KILLED

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 13.—(P)—George Trelo, 41-year-old coal miner, was killed today when a mass of slate fell while he was working in Panther Creek Mine No. 5. Coroner W. L. Drago said death "was caused by crushing head injuries."

FEAR 700 LOST IN WRECKING OF RUSSIAN VESSEL

Steamer Is Blinded By Blizzard Off North Island Of Japan

Wakkanai, Hokkaido, Japan, Dec. 13.—(P)—The blizzard-blinded wrecking of the Russian steamer Indigirka off Hokkaido, northernmost of Japan's main islands, was feared today to have cost the lives of more than 700 Russians, many of them women and children.

The heavily laden vessel, built in the United States 19 years ago and sold to Russia in 1938, was operating in the Soviet fishing service when she went aground yesterday off the perilous Hokkaido coast.

Aboard were about 1,100 persons, fishermen with their wives and children and a crew of 39.

395 Survivors

The Japanese ship Karafuto Maru reached port today with 395 survivors who knew nothing of the fate of their missing comrades.

It was feared the rest had drowned or frozen to death.

(Reports received in Tokyo said 87 were known to have perished.)

The survivors were suffering from exposure when the Karafuto Maru brought them to safety from the icy scene of the wreck.

One SOS was sent out by the Indigirka before a huge wave smashed her radio room, but even in that message she was prevented by blinding snow from giving her position accurately.

Possible rescue ships were held in port all day yesterday by the storm.

The Indigirka was a ship of 2,690 tons.

The wreck occurred on one of the sea routes between Vladivostok and the Kamchatka peninsula.

Severe Plains Drought Peril To Farm Crops

By The Associated Press

Santa Claus will be in the dog house if he doesn't pack along a big rain or snow to break a severe plains drought.

Most of the area needs moisture for stock and the coming crop season.

The fall season has been almost rainless in the old dust bowl of western Kansas, eastern Colorado and the Oklahoma panhandle where the dry spell is most severe.

Most seriously threatened are the winter wheat belt and the stock country. Much winter wheat in western Kansas and western Nebraska failed to germinate in the dry soil. The grain which sprouted is dying from lack of moisture.

Showers In Kansas

Timely showers in eastern Kansas have kept wheat growing but dry creeks and ponds force farmers to haul water to keep stock alive.

In southwestern Nebraska, McCook has had no rain for more than three months.

Texas generally needs rain. While range feed prospects were not favorable generally, cattle were reported in about average flesh except in local dry areas.

Northwestern and west-central Iowa had their driest November of record with no rain since. Meadow hay lands and winter wheat in those areas have been damaged.

South Dakota had its driest November also and winter wheat and rye in poor condition. Lack of reserve moisture has handicapped spring crops. Evan V. Jones, agricultural statistician, said.

Illinois is more than six inches short of its normal rainfall for the past four months. Only three times in the last 50 years has there been a greater deficiency than in 1939.

Attacks NLRB Colleagues at Inquiry

Verbal bombshells began exploding in Washington as Dr. William M. Leiserson, first witness in the House inquiry into NLRB, opened a series of salty attacks on his fellow board members. Representative Howard Smith (Dem., Va.), left, investigating committee chairman, talks with Dr. Leiserson, newest member of the group.

Wheat Passes Dollar Mark; Other Grains, Stocks Climb

Is Sharpest Advance in Grain Prices Since War Broke Out in Europe Last September; Several Factors Responsible

Chicago, Dec. 13.—(P)—The sharpest advance in grain prices since war broke out in Europe last September today lifted wheat futures to and beyond the dollar mark for the first time in more than two years.

Drought, European political developments and strength in other commodities, especially cotton, touched off a buying wave that carried wheat up as much as 5 cents a bushel. All wheat, rye, soy bean and December and May oats contracts soared into new highs for the season or longer.

Goes Past Dollar

Wheat for December delivery shot up 2 cents to $1 at the start, bringing dollar wheat back to the Board of Trade for the first time since October, 1937, and then forged further to $1.021, up 41 cents. May and July, the latter representing the new crop, climbed to $1 and 97 cents respectively, both up 5 cents. The market closed at or near the highs. Some grain men estimated trade was the broadest in two years.

SOVIETS AGAIN SUFFER LOSSES FIGHTING FINNS

Invasion Is Brought To Standstill On Karelian Isthmus

Moscow, Dec. 13.—(P)—A day's advance of approximately 20 miles further into Finnish territory by the Red army in central Finland was announced tonight by the Soviet Russian army command of the Leningrad area.

Details of fighting were not given in the brief communiqué.

Helsinki, Dec. 13.—(P)—The Finnish army declared tonight the Russian invasion had been brought to a standstill on the Karelian Isthmus after a fortnight of bitter mid-winter fighting, and that fiercely attacking Red troops on the eastern front had been repulsed in most places.

New attacks by air and sea were turned back today, the Finnish command said, and the 800-mile land front from the Gulf of Finland to the Arctic ocean remained substantially the same.

"Great losses" to the Red army resulted when the Finns counter-attacked.

U. S. ENVOY TO BELGIUM MAY BE KEPT HERE

Joseph E. Davies Is Considered As An Advisor To FDR

Washington, Dec. 13.—(P)—President Roosevelt is considering keeping Ambassador Joseph E. Davies in Washington for consultation and advice in connection with the European hostilities, it was learned tonight.

State department officials said that Davies had not resigned as ambassador to Belgium and that no definite decision had yet been reached as to just what his status would be.

The president discussed with Secretary Hull today the question of keeping Davies in Washington and has an appointment with Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state, for tomorrow to discuss the ambassador's future work.

President Roosevelt will leave for Hyde Park tomorrow and it was said that there would be no announcement regarding Davies until he returns.

Favors Third Term

Davies himself added momentum to the "draft Roosevelt" talk today by asserting that a third term was necessary because the world was "on fire."

"I think," said the ambassador to Belgium, "that America is in jeopardy as it certainly has not been in our generation and probably not since its institution."

Davies, just back from Europe, passed along to Secretary Hull and the president information he had picked up at his diplomatic sally post in Brussels.

Then, to reporters at the White House, the ambassador made his remarks about a third term. Thus, he joined a procession of men high in administration circles who have advocated another term. These men include Secretaries Wallace and Ickes and Joseph E. Kennedy, ambassador to England.

Damaged In Battle With British Ships

FIVE NEW STARS Discovery Is Important, Astronomers Say

Austin, Tex., Dec. 13.—(P)—Five new stars belonging to the mysterious group of "White Dwarfs" have been discovered by McDonald observatory, University of Texas officials disclosed today.

Dr. Otto Struve, observatory director, told the officials that the discoveries, which bring the group's known total to 24, may upset current theories as to the generation of energy.

Dr. Gerald P. Kuiper, research associate who has sighted 13 of the 24 "heavy stars," operated the observatory's 82-inch reflector for the last three months to make his discoveries.

These stars have volumes of the order of that of the earth, but their masses are approximately equal to that of the sun," Dr. Struve said. "Hence their densities are fantastically large, in some cases exceeding one thousand tons per cubic inch."

Astronomers and physicists have been interested vitally in the "Dwarfs." They promised to throw light upon such fundamental problems as the generation of energy in the interiors of stars.

INTERRED FOR WAR DURATION AT MONTEVIDEO

Pocket Battleship Is Forced Into Port; 30 Are Killed

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 13.—(P)—A 14-hour running sea fight between three British cruisers and the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer ended tonight with the badly-hit German warship taking refuge in neutral Montevideo harbor with 30 of her crew killed and 60 injured.

The British victory was not without its casualties, however, for the British admiral in London admitted one of its cruisers, the fast 8,300-ton cruiser Exeter, had been put out of action after four hours of the fight.

But the other two British warships, the 7,030-ton cruiser Achilles and the 6,885-ton Ajax, trailed the Admiral Scheer to her refuge and took up positions just outside the harbor.

Their grim guns, hardly cooled from the furious battle, were still trained on the little battleship which earlier in the day had attacked one of them off the coast.

(A little after midnight the German minister to Uruguay, Otto Lannemann, arrived at the port of Montevideo to intern the Admiral Scheer for the duration of the European war.)

Seen From Shore

The battle was fought within the American neutrality belt, and much of it was within sight of the Uruguayan shore where the reverberating roar of the great guns was heard and the flashes of gunfire observed.

Officials at Washington said, however, that probably no issue would be raised on this question.

"They said the Admiral Scheer was within her rights under international law in taking refuge for repairs, but that she would have to leave within 24 hours after repairs are completed."

Uruguayan port authorities, nervous because their shore had been exposed all day to the booming six and eight-inch guns of the British men-of-war, and the 11-inch mortars of the German, kept curious crowds at a distance as the battleship dropped anchor, apparently seriously damaged.

The battered warship, which had haunted South Atlantic shipping lanes since September when she sank the British merchantman Clement, had chanced upon the British cruiser Ajax just after dawn.

Convoys French Ship

The latter was convoying the French merchantman Formosa from Brazil to Uruguay.

The Admiral Scheer rushed to the attack, but was momentarily repulsed by the six-inch guns of the speedy Ajax, and then found herself engaged in an unequal combat with three British men-of-war instead of one.

The Exeter and the Achilles came up foaming. The Achilles' six-inch artillery and the Exeter's eight-inch guns spoke in volley after volley.

The Admiral Scheer apparently found the Exeter's guns particularly damaging, for she turned her attention away from the rest of the pack and devoted her batteries exclusively to the Exeter.

As a result the Exeter was caused some distress, and compelled to quit the battle. Meanwhile, the Formosa steamed away to safety.

LAGUARDIA HAS NEW TAX PLAN, FEDERAL BASIS

Government Would Serve As Collection Agency

Chicago, Dec. 13.—(P)—Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York today suggested a uniform tax system with the federal government serving as the collection agency.

In an address at a forum sponsored by the Illinois Tax Commission, he said that where state and federal governments overlap in the taxing field, the state should allow the federal government to collect the entire tax and then refund to the state its proportionate share.

Workings of Plan

He explained, by way of example, that the federal government could collect a ten per cent income tax in the states and, if a state had a three per cent income levy, then the government would give back to that state its three per cent share of the collections in the state.

"Under such a plan," the mayor stated, "all citizens would bear the same rate and this would eliminate competition between the states."

"We cannot have 48 separate economies or we'll have greater chaos than we have today."

He figured income, inheritance and excise taxes could be handled in the manner he outlined and contended such a system would avoid duplication in collection and administration and would involve less expense.

The current "unscientific" methods, he opined, cannot be continued.

Attempt At Train Robbery Confessed

Danville, Ill., Dec. 13.—(P)—Details of an unsuccessful "Wild West" attempt at train robbery near Onarga last July 31 were told by U. S. District Attorney Arthur Roe today when James Arthur Tracy pleaded guilty to participation in the raid.

Roe said Tracy also had cleared up two other mail robberies in a confession which implicated two other men in the Onarga attempt.

Tracy entered his guilty plea when arraigned in federal court. Judge Walter C. Lindley deferred sentence pending disposition of the case against John F. Walsh, 38, who was captured when he leaped from the train and was identified by Tracy as an accomplice.

Roe said Tracy, 30, and a former convict, confessed he had boarded the Illinois Central mail train with Waldon hoping to seize a $50,000 payroll destined for the army airfield at Rantoul. He named Johnny Blackwell, who is still at large, as driver of the getaway automobile.

Mary Pickford Not To Attend Funeral

New York, Dec. 13.—(P)—Even if she had the time, Mary Pickford said today, she would not attend the funeral of her former husband, Douglas Fairbanks, in California.

"I think it's barbaric to look at death," Miss Pickford declared shortly after she arrived here for a conference with Alexander Korda, United Artists producer.

"The second the spirit leaves the body, the body is nothing but an empty shell, not the person you knew and cared for. I don't want anybody to look at me when I'm dead. Funeral is barbarous, revolting affair. I go to them as seldom as I possibly can."

Miss Pickford said she and Fairbanks had met as directors frequently at United Artists meetings since their divorce and that she had seen him at a meeting last Thursday in Los Angeles. Then, she said, he looked "marvelous" and "youthful," and that was the picture of "Douglas that I want to carry in my mind forever."

Hollywood's Scarlett O'Hara Is In Atlanta

Atlanta, Dec. 13.—(P)—Scarlett O'Hara rode the sky from Hollywood to Atlanta and fluttered Atlanta laced on its ante-bellum stays in final priming for a hoopskirted jamboree to welcome the marathon movie "Gone With The Wind."

188's tools from air drills to sewing machines—hummed to bring back 1860 atmosphere for the civic circus to be climaxed Friday night when a small cross-section of the public gets first laymen's look at the 3 hour and 57 minute film created from Atlanta Margaret Mitchell's amazing story of the old South.

Smartly clad and slightly fagged—junior leaguers dodged carpenters, electricians, laborers in the cavernous city auditorium while they rushed preparations for Atlanta's most ambitious charity ball tomorrow night.

Already on the stage was the 40x30-foot facade of an Ionic-columned Greek revival mansion of the kind favored on the great plantations of the middle 19th century, flanked by blooming magnolia trees, draped with wisteria.

Some 5,000 of the 15,000 who sought seats will be serving charity at $3.50 to $10 a head while Constitution publisher Clark Howell, in the movie costume of Dr. Meade, marshals the program, opening with the moonlit entrance of half a hundred junior leaguers in vast hoops, tight basques.

A stately polka and negro plantation singing will precede costume judging and dancing to the music of bandman Kay Kyser.

Still unsolved was the problem of dancing with Clark Gable-Rhett Butler and Scarlett-Vivien Leigh. A chance to serve charity—and share in

Clerks Are Human, Too!

Here's a practical suggestion for the benefit of those who like to demonstrate some of the Good-Will-To-Men spirit in connection with the rapidly approaching Christmas holidays.

Let's resolve this year to be a lot more considerate of the clerks in the stores. They face a hard task during the rest of this week and next. Their job becomes more hectic the nearer it gets to Christmas. The last few days generally finds them "worn to a frazzle," as one clerk put it, in recalling other Christmas rushes.

There are a lot of us whose jobs or business make it possible for us to do our shopping just about any time we please. Wouldn't it be a nice thing for the clerks if we determined to get most of our shopping out of the way this week, and if we did it during those hours of the day when the clerks are not rushed.

Many persons, because of the nature of their jobs, must get into the stores during rush hours. They can not help ease the burden of the clerks, even if they wished. But the rest of us can be a big help.

It might also be well to keep in mind this is a season of unselfish consideration for others. We can make the life of the clerks more pleasant this week and next if we keep our temper, meet conditions with a smile and do not expect the impossible.

The Finest Gift

This holiday season the United States has much to be thankful for—and the ancient greeting of "Happy New Year" should have more than ordinary significance. Alone of the great powers of the world, we are at peace and remote from the bloody horrors of war.

That we should stay at peace should be every American's passionate resolution. For war does more than destroy lives and property. It destroys ideals, institutions, principles—the best that centuries of our forefathers have bequeathed us. Certainly the world should have learned by now that there are no victors in modern war—there are only losers.

Peace is the finest Christmas gift any nation in the world can have.

Music in Motors

It should be no surprise to anyone familiar with the rise of the automobile to hear that this indispensable servant has acquired a musical history, running from "Get Out and Get Under" of its early days to "Song of the Highway," pushed only last year. So voluminous is this musical literature that a collector of Brookline, Mass., has turned over to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington a bundle of sheet music inspired by the automobile, to comprise a special exhibit in that repository of scientific curios.

One may easily see how the changing fashions in transportation in this country might be reflected in our popular music. The young man who was "Seeing Nellie Home" in the horse and buggy days may well have been the same swain who soon after was singing "Come away with me Lucille, in my brand new Oldsmobile." By 1902 he was "Off to the Fair" by motor—no doubt with interruptions—and in 1906 may have become the "Gay Chauffeur" celebrated in the popular song of that year.

At one period there were "School songs" published to advertise the automotive classes that instructed tyros in the mysteries of starting a car and keeping it running. As far back as 1901 there was "The Cart Without a Horse" but it was not until a few years later that the singers were invited cautiously to "Take a Little Ride With Me."

All of the early makes of cars had their special songs, subtly extolling their virtues, and there was a skillful plug for the one-man top in "When He Wanted to Love Her, He'd Put Up the Cover."

The musical gamut runs all the way from the "one lungers" of 1900 to the peerless twelve of the present day. Our irrepressible American spirits induced us to sing as we tinkered with the motor back in the early days; they have continued with us to the time when we really have something to sing about.

SMALL TALK

Good morning. We had occasion to journey to New Berlin the other night to act as a judge (all right, one of the judges then) in a contest. It was a lot of fun and very worth while, but one of the highlights of the trip was our first view of the new high school building there. It's a beauty. We'd never seen it from the inside before, and though we saw only the front hallway and the gymnasium on this particular trip, we gained an impression of what the rest must be like. If you have the chance, it would be worth your while to stop in and see the place. The gym itself is enough to make your mouth water. There are built-in tiers of seats on one side and a very nice stage on the other. The floor is fine, though you'll have to talk to one of the basketball players for an expert opinion on that matter. The ceiling is covered with that absorbent stuff that soaks up all the stray sound, making the acoustics unusually good for a gym. There is an electric scoreboard and everything. Boy, it's really swell. The gym floor when we were there was covered with canvas so the folding chairs wouldn't mar the surface. The seating capacity for a performance on the stage, built-in seats plus folding chairs, probably equals that of any auditorium or gymnasium in Jacksonville. Possible exceptions are the Illinois School for the Deaf auditorium and the Illinois theater—but we wouldn't want to make any wild bets on either.

It may be that we are trying to judge other people in light of our own views, but it seems that there has been a very definite revival of interest in the theater during the past few years. This opinion is based upon a number of things. In the first place, there are more local residents who have gained a speaking acquaintance with the legitimate stage by means of trips to St. Louis and Chicago recently than you could shake a floodlight at. In the second place, both Chicago and St. Louis have enlarged and improved their play and opera seasons, and you couldn't do that unless there was sufficient demand on the part of patrons. In the third place, the radio has introduced Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen to stars of play, musical comedy, and opera—thereby increasing the desire on the part of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. to see these people in person when the occasion arises. In the fourth place, school and civic amateur dramatic groups all over the country are presenting the very best and the very latest in dramatic words instead of the simple, immature, and antiquated stuff they were handing out not so long ago. In the fifth place, the average person knows more about dramatic literature in the first place.

All of which may not prove what we mean it to prove—and we haven't given any authority for our statements. We think, however, that you will agree that it all comes down to the fact that there is now in progress a perfectly natural revival of interest in flesh-and-blood performances. For a while, the novelty of the radio and the motion picture appeared to displace the desire to see the performer in person. Now it is working the other way. If you hear a fellow on the radio, then watch him in pictures, your desire to see him in person is stepped way up. You make the acquaintance of Giovanni Martinelli, Lauritz Melchior, and other opera stars by means of the Metropolitan broadcasts. Then, when Martinelli or Melchior or any of their cohorts get close to home in either concert or opera, you want very much to hear them—in person.

Testimony to the value of personal appearances is offered by the current practice in Hollywood of sending slipping stars on personal appearance tours. Dick Powell, the Ritz brothers, and Martha Raye are just three examples of many. They seemed to be falling a bit at the studio. Now they are all on tour, all making attendance records, and their next pictures will probably be more successful.

The movies are wonderful and the radio is wonderful, but there just isn't any satisfactory substitute for the old fashioned flesh-and-blood performance. As a matter of fact, movies, radio, and stage are working together—whether they mean to or not—on a tremendously valuable project. They are giving the American people something of an education in the arts. This backfires on them to the extent that they can no longer present any old kind of show in the movies or over the radio or on the stage of a small town and expect it to go over. The residents of Jacksonville are just as capable of knowing what is good and what isn't nowadays as were the residents of New York when they were the only ones to enjoy top-notch performances at first hand. This means that performance standards in all the arts are getting better—because they have to. And it also means that there are more fine young artists now than ever before.

And finally, if we aren't too far off in saying that all this might be an important factor in keeping the United States in a peaceful and good-humored mood so it won't go trotting off to mess around in other peoples' wars, we're all for it.

See you tomorrow.

THE CONSTRUCTION GAME

Bureau Has Names Of Families Who Need Santa Claus

Clearing House Working Well to Eliminate Duplicate Aid

The various agencies, organizations and individuals accustomed to distribute Christmas help to needy families in Jacksonville have co-operated a hundred per cent in turning in names of such families to the Christmas Bureau located in the child welfare office in the courthouse. As a result, several hundred families are registered with the bureau.

However, only about a hundred families have thus far been reserved by the various churches, organizations and individuals who will distribute Christmas aid. Those desiring to do something for local needy families may find names of such families available at the bureau. Call in person or phone 1424.

The names have been carefully checked at the Christmas Bureau and much duplication has been found. This has been eliminated and for this reason a larger number of families can receive baskets and other help this Christmas.

Detection of Bogus Money to Be Theme At Meeting Friday

Secret Service Agent Will Speak at Gathering of Bankers, Merchants

Lauren P. Jackson, agent in charge of the Springfield office of the U. S. Secret Service, will be the speaker at a dinner meeting being sponsored by the Morgan County Bankers association, to be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Dunlap hotel. Merchants of the city are invited to attend the meeting, at which methods of detecting counterfeit currency will be discussed.

Agents trained in the detection of counterfeit money are sent out of the Chicago office of the secret service and often explain methods of detection to those whom such knowledge would aid. Merchants and bankers must keep constantly on guard against taking in bad money and should know how to recognize it when they see it.

The engraving of bills is a complicated process, and the counterfeit usually slips up somewhere when he tries to make money in illegitimate ways. It is up to business men who are accustomed to receive cash every day to know the ordinary errors the counterfeit makes. The meeting Friday evening promises to be most interesting.

Marshall Stoops Is Pilot of Winners

Assistant Farm Adviser Has Two Prize Teams in Big National Contest

Marshall Stoops of Canton, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Stoops, is assistant farm adviser for Fulton county. The six boys who competed came home with six gold watches as prizes for winning first in stock judging and first in corn judging for the entire nation. Mr. Stoops, a graduate of the Pennsylvania state College of Agriculture, is serving his third year as assistant farm adviser in Fulton county.

Fans After "Double Features" Now For Their Quint Games

Demanding Twice the Show Of Previous Years: Is Causing More Worry

New York, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The double feature still may be a headache to movie magnates, but to college basketball it is about the biggest innovation since the introduction of level floors.

And it's a growing young giant of an idea that may sweep the country—like bingo. Basketball fans are demanding twice as much basketball a night as they used to get.

That's what Ned Irish, former New York sportswriter, who introduced the highly successful double bills at Madison Square Garden, believes will be one of 1940's major cage trends.

And he is in a pretty good position to know, for his double offerings last year attracted an average of 14,000 customers a night for 14 nights—exclusive of the 50,000 who sat three nights to watch the Metropolitan Basketball Writers' tournament.

Irish thinks the growth of the doubleheader will be paralleled by the retention of sectional championships by virtually every one of 1939's pennant-winning teams.

Irish's associates, who keep a watchful eye on cage conditions from coast to coast, think John Dick and Matt Pavlunas should spark the N. C. A. A. champion, Oregon, to another northern division Pacific coast title, and that Ralph Vaughn of Southern California and Toddy Giannini of Santa Clara, both vying for the "best player of the west" title vacated by Stanford's Hank Luisetti, will make their clubs powerful again.

Then there are the towering Joe Jackson of New Mexico Aggies, Jack Harvey of Colorado U., Jimmy McNeel of Oklahoma U., Bobby Moers of Texas and Jesse Reuck of Oklahoma Aggies—all ready to keep those quintets on the titular trails they trod so successfully last year.

The garden impresario has high hopes for DePal, Ohio State, Minnesota, New York U., Long Island U., Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Georgetown, Temple, Kentucky and Tennessee to be leading powers again in their respective sections.

attacked successfully on the eastern front, just north of Lake Ladoga, a communique said. Many prisoners were taken, and five more Soviet tanks and four pieces of field artillery were captured. Other tanks were reported destroyed on the Isthmus.

Enemy Annihilated
Finnish coastal artillery "annihilated" enemy forces attempting to force a way along marshy road skirting the northeastern shore of Lake Ladoga, the communique said, and transport detachments near Saunainen were forced to turn back.

From their coastal artillery firing from Kolvislo Island in the Gulf of Finland, bombarded Red troops operating on the mainland. Kolvislo Island is offshore from Mourula on the Karelian Isthmus where heavy fighting has been reported in the Russian advance upon Vilpuri, Finland's second city.

The Red air corps dropped bombs from above the clouds in the vicinity of Hanko, southwestern naval base, and Tammisaari, 20 miles inland from the tip of Hanko head, the Finns reported.

Of fighting on the eastern front, the communique said: "The enemy is continuing fierce attacks which for the most part were repulsed."

New York Stock Market

New York, Dec. 13.—(P)—Rallying power came back to the stock market with a rush today and favored issues went ahead fractions to round three points.

Volume increased on the boost and transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares compared with 612,150 in yesterday's listless dealings.

The board strength accompanied another wide advance in the speculative commodities, and was overdue, some analysts said, in view of the usual rule that stocks follow staples fairly closely.

Prices were higher at the beginning of the session and except for a few intervals climbed throughout. Steels and motors were most in demand, but rails, aircrafts and some specialties were not neglected in the hurry to buy. The only weak spot was among the oils, depressed by another reported increase in gasoline supplies.

American telephone touched a new high for the year as renewed interest appeared in the utilities.

Brokers said the stimulus for the move probably was largely in the booming commodity markets.

In late transactions cotton was $1.20 to $1.65 a bale higher for the best price since 1937. At Chicago wheat, above $1 for the first time since October, two years ago, gained 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents a bushel and corn 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents.

Other commodities noted were silk, which touched a nine year high, rubber, hides, rye, sugar, cottonseed oil, and soy beans.

Bonds improved a little. Foreign markets were irregular most of the day but steadied toward the finish.

SERIAL STORY

SANTA CLAUS BROWN BY MILDRED GILMAN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

IT was Christmas Eve, and the small town of Southbury glistered gaily with Christmas cheer. Festoons of holly were strung across the center of the street and lighted trees blazed along the walks. The snow was falling gently, whirling into soft white drifts. Street lights gleamed in the darkness.

Along the main street of the town, men were busy clearing the street with snow shovels, stopping occasionally to blow on their hands and stamp chilled feet.

By far the most festive place in town was Southbury's main department store, Donaldson's Palais Royale, its glittering windows filled with toys and games and Christmas trimmings. Last minute Christmas shoppers passed in and out through its doors, and hurried homeward along the snowy street, their arms full of packages. It was a good-natured crowd that hurried and jostled and called greetings to one another.

The snow shovellers began to relax. They leaned on their shovels and joked with each other; all except one—a young man with an earnest, intelligent face, who went right on with his work. Jim Carter had but one purpose in mind—to shovel snow until he had enough money to give his three small children the kind of Christmas children should have. He looked up at the town clock. It was only 5:30. . . . he could shovel for hours and hours.

His comrades called to him. "Come on, knock off for the day, Jim. It's Christmas Eve!"

"I'll be along in a little while," he answered, as the others slung their shovels over their shoulders and trudged off toward home.

For a moment before Donaldson's department store and gazed at its toy-filled windows. He found himself picking things out for his Pete and Joe, and little Betty, impossible things with high price tags, that a man shoveling snow at 40 cents an hour can only look at, never buy.

And then suddenly he saw Betty, his 6-year-old daughter, skipping up the street with a group of playmates. He turned away and bent over his work so that she would not see him; but he watched them out of the corner of his eye as they all trooped into the big store.

"Going to see Santa Claus Brown," he told himself. "Bless their hearts, how the children all do love him."

Betty and her little group of friends hastened to the toy department inside Donaldson's Palais Royale. To them it was fairyland; they stood wide-eyed with awe and wonder. Then one of them shouted,

"There's Santa Claus Brown!" They rushed over to a plump, jolly Santa who sat enthroned among the wonders of the toy department.

The children approached noisily, a floorwalk called:

"Time to quit, Santa Claus Brown. You worked half an hour late last night. Better go home and fix up your own Christmas."

But Brown didn't even hear him. He was smiling at the children.

Betty asked him earnestly: "Are you the real Santa Claus, Santa Claus Brown?"

The others just phoned? Gosh, he look like Santa Claus. Or—are you just working for the real Santa Claus?"

Some of the children snickered, but Brown smiled down at her and answered seriously:

"If you believe in me hard enough, I'm Santa Claus, Betty. If you believe hard enough, you'll get what you want. What do you want, Betty?"

"Sure. Might as well stay right here till you need me. You're keeping open till 9, aren't you?"

He clashed several times with Representative Murdock (D-Utah) over views of the controlling decision, that in the Alston Coal company case. This gave the United Mine Workers collective bargaining representation for all mines affiliated with the Southwest Coal Operators Association. The board, in its accompanying opinion, said both operators and employees considered collective bargaining on an industry-wide basis to have "stabilized the coal mining industry and placed the mines on a fair competitive basis."

Experience in the area over a long period of time had shown the system desirable, it added.

Murdock's Point

Murdock made the point several times that in Illinois Ozanic's union holds association-wide labor contracts and, in fact, has been sustained by the board as the representative of the miners, as was done elsewhere for the United Mine Workers.

"If it's good for the United Mine Workers in outlying fields, its good for us in Illinois," Ozanic asserted. "But we think it's wrong."

"Someone," Murdock persisted, "has to determine the question of the bargaining unit. Do you want to leave it to yourself, John L. Lewis, or someone else?"

"The Congress of the United States should designate what the unit is," Ozanic said, adding a recommendation that the Wagner act be amended to that effect.

In another exchange with Murdock over whether the board had given reasons for the dismissal of cases, Murdock asked whether Ozanic did not know that the reason was the controlling Alston decision.

"That," Ozanic shot back, "was the plan of the National Labor Relations Board as a way out for the CIO United Mine Workers."

Ozanic arrived at the hearing accompanied by 15 union officials or members, one a negro wearing the blue denim work suit, helmet with lamp, and the knee-pads of a miner at work. All are to testify tomorrow, giving details of the cases raised by Ozanic.

One of the causes of the resolution carried immense potential punch. After urging the member states to do everything they could to give material and humanitarian help to the Finns, the resolution continued:

"The assembly authorizes the secretary-general of the league to lend the aid of his technical services for the organization of assistance to Finland as outlined above."

Reference to U. S.

One part of the resolution empowered the league secretary-general to invite the United States to cooperate with league states in helping the Finns. The United States was not mentioned specifically, but in Geneva's official language the phrase "non-member states" is almost synonymous with the United States.

The Finnish delegate, Rudolf Holsti, commented:

"It could mean all or nothing—we must wait and see. As a resolution it is excellent, but we must see what its execution amounts to."

Jacob Surits, Soviet Russian ambassador to France, left Geneva and went back to Paris this morning.

His aide said he "saw the handwriting on the wall."

League procedure artists meantime decided China will not be re-elected to her seat in the council until after the body votes on expulsion of the U.S.S.R.

"This would save China the embarrassment of voting on the expulsion of a league member from whom she has received aid in her fight with Japan."

China, one of the non-permanent members of the council, has been declared eligible for re-election.

The Argentine delegate, Rudolf Freyre, told the assembly today that Argentina would resign from the league unless Soviet Russia were elected.

LEAGUE PILOTS FAVOR CENSURE AGAINST USSR

Entire Assembly Will Vote On It; Expulsion Mentioned

Geneva, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The league of nations tonight put up to the assembly a bold resolution to brand Soviet Russia an aggressor against Finland, put weight behind the drive for Russia's banishment from Geneva, and even turn the league secretariat into a coordinating general staff for war materials and humanitarian aid for the struggling Finns.

A committee of delegates from 13 nations, including Great Britain and France, approved and submitted the resolution to the assembly for final action.

The assembly will meet tomorrow morning to vote on the resolution and since unanimity is not required there, it was expected to be adopted without difficulty.

The overwhelming drive for expulsion, which can be decided only by the council, was given a strong push by the committee's action.

The resolution, noted Russia's refusal to participate in league efforts to mediate the war with Finland and her "vain" attempt to justify her refusal by declaring she had recognized a "pretended" Finnish government.

Expulsion Question

The resolution then recommended that the council sit to consider the "question"—by implication, expulsion.

In a previous section the resolution specifically called the Russian invasion "aggression" against Finland.

Hundreds Of Vets Assisted By Legion

1,026 Cases Are Handled In State; Compensation Final Date Soon

A total of 1,026 cases of benefit to ex-service men or their dependents was handled during the year of 1939, by The American Legion in Illinois, according to information which has just been received by L. K. Gilchrist, commander of the Jacksonville post of the American Legion, from Lester R. Benston of Chicago, Department Service officer for the Legion.

"The cases handled included straight claims for compensation, pension for disabled veterans, claims arising from deaths of veterans, and allowances for widows' pensions, mothers' pensions, and insurance and many others," Benston reported to Commander Gilchrist.

A final warning has been issued by Benston to service officers of all posts in the state, advising that the final date for making applications for adjusted Compensation certificates will be January 2, 1940. It is estimated that there are 15,000 cases in Illinois for which claims have not been filed.

"Some veterans have felt that their length of service did not entitle them to compensation," said Benston. "And local American Legion post officers will be pleased to advise with dependents of deceased veterans, if it is felt that claims have not been filed in individual cases."

Lions Pay Tribute To Fred R. Bailey, District Governor

Jacksonville Man Appointed To Fill Unexpired Term; Logan Giffen Speaks

Appointment of Fred R. Bailey of this city as governor of District 1-B of Illinois Lions clubs was announced last night at an inter-city dinner of Jacksonville and Springfield clubs, given in his honor at the Dunlap hotel. Mr. Bailey, active in the Jacksonville club and state organization for 11 years, will fill the unexpired term of Arthur Johnson, Princeton, whose resignation was received by the international office.

A large delegation of Springfield Lions joined the Jacksonville clubmen in extending tribute to the new district governor. Announcement of the appointment was made by Murray S. Hanes, Springfield, past international director. The principal address was delivered by Attorney D. Logan Giffen, also of the visiting delegation.

Mr. Bailey was appointed district governor by Alexander T. Wells of New York City, president of Lions International, to serve until the annual state convention which will be held in Jacksonville next year. District 1-B embraces territory across the state from Joliet to Taylorville, in which there are 55 clubs.

The new district governor has appointed Russell G. Steacy, a member of the local club, as district secretary-treasurer.

President Lawrence Crawford of the Jacksonville club welcomed the Springfield visitors, after which he introduced Mr. Hanes as chairman of the evening. Mr. Hanes discussed the strong bond of fellowship of the Jacksonville and Springfield clubs, stating that the Lions of his city shared the pleasure of the local club in Mr. Bailey's appointment.

Attorney Giffen, being introduced by Mr. Hanes, paid high compliment to District Governor Bailey, who has become one of the best known Lions in Illinois through his devotion to its interests and principles. The speaker pointed out the honors that have been bestowed upon the club here during the past year, including its selection as host for the 1940 state convention and appointment of one of its members as governor of the district.

District Governor Bailey was one of the Jacksonville Lions who went to Carbondale last summer and worked for the selection of this city as the scene of the next convention. He is possessor of a master key in Lionism, which signifies that he has been responsible for bringing 12 members into the club.

Springfield Lions at the session were Charles S. Wanless, H. L. Bailey, Jr., C. A. Livingstone, L. C. Rollman, W. D. Lumm, D. B. Hodge, Clifford Estes, Walter Bruns, Max Tschander, R. L. Whannel, D. Logan Giffen, Charles R. Lenz, H. D. Lusk, J. H. Murray, S. Hanes, Dr. Bernard Sheehan, Earl R. Bice, and W. L. Drago.

Woodson, Dec. 13.—The Woodson Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. H. F. Smith, who will be assisted by Mrs. F. E. McCurley and Mrs. L. P. Fisher. Dr. M. L. Pontius will be the guest speaker, his subject being "The Bible." Each member is asked to take a Christmas gift to the meeting, which will be sent to Park Ridge School for Girls. There will be a gift exchange among the members.

GIVEN PROPER CARE POINSETTIA WILL FLOWER NEXT YEAR

With a little care a poinsettia plant that's in full bloom at Christmas can be kept in good condition for flowering next year, says H. D. Donner, professor of horticulture, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. The true blooms, inconspicuous, are surrounded by the bright red leaves or bracts which fall off soon after the holiday season.

After the leaves have fallen, the plant should be put in a cool place, between 40 and 60 degrees F., and the soil allowed to dry out. Then, if there is too much old wood to make a shape, the plant for next winter, it is cut back. The old soil is removed from the roots and the plant placed in a pot just large enough to hold the mass of roots without crowding. Drainage is provided in the bottom of the pot and it is then filled with fresh soil, three parts garden loam, one part well-rotted manure and one part leaf mold.

After the poinsettia is repotted, it should be put in a warm, light place and watered whenever the soil seems to be drying out. When the maple trees are in full leaf, the poinsettia can be set out of doors in a sunny place, still in its pot. The pot should be buried in the soil up to its top. This saves repotting in the fall and disturbing the roots. In a very hot climate, it is better to place the poinsettia where there is some shade at midday. As soon as growth starts, wooden or wire stakes are provided to support the plant and keep the stems straight. It may be necessary to re-pot the plant during the summer in a larger pot if it becomes potbound.

In the fall and when there is danger of frost, the poinsettia is brought indoors and kept in a light, airy part of the house out of drafts, where the temperature ranges from 60 to 65 degrees F., or slightly cooler. Higher temperatures will make the leaves drop. The soil is kept moist and a little liquid manure provided at weekly intervals. Then the plant will be ready for a 1940 Christmas.

If the poinsettia is used as a cut flower, the stem should be sealed immediately after cutting by dipping it in hot water or holding it in the flame of a candle or lamp.

REV. W. C. MEEKER TO BE BELLEVILLE SPEAKER

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Meeker leave today for Belleville, where the local pastor will be a speaker on the program of toasts at the dinner commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the Belleville Presbyterian church. Mr. Meeker was pastor of the Belleville parish for six and one-half years immediately preceding his coming to Jacksonville. As the church is undergoing repairs, the more formal observance of the centennial will be held a few weeks later. Their son, Dr. Cornelius Meeker, of St. Louis, will return with them for the holidays.

WHILE HIS HOME BURNS

Canton, Ill., Dec. 13.—(P)—Albert Hale sat on the front porch of his home today and sang a lusty song. It was 24 degrees on the porch, but inside, fire was licking away at the interior. In fact the house soon was destroyed.

Police Chief Sam Eyerly said Albert had started a fire on the floor and then had gone outside to sing. He charged Albert with setting the blaze and looked him in jail.

Mrs. Abbie Fitzgerald, owner, who also occupied a part of the house, barely escaped the flames. She and a daughter had been asleep.
